

I am concerned to hear that the FCC is considering some changes that may affect my local K-Love Christian music radio station. This radio station is extremely important to me, my family, and many of our friends. It provides positive encouraging music and information that help us all get through the day. There is never any concern about the topics of conversation of the lyrics to a song on this radio station. They are appropriate for listeners of all ages.

My specific concerns with the proposed changes are in regard to:

- Requiring a Community Advisory Board: One board overseeing all broadcasters in a particular area would be detrimental if there were individuals appointed who are not friendly to the Christian mission of K-Love.
- Requiring Additional Staffing: Adding tens of thousands of dollars in additional monthly expense to each affected station is a financial burden on a radio station that is completely listener funded.
- Priority to Low Power FM stations: This would not allow many of the translators that carry the K-Love programming to carry the station any longer.

Please consider my comments in your efforts to make the best possible decision to represent all needs of listeners.
